

SINN FEINERS MADE A RAID

Overpowered Four Constables and Seized Rifles and Ammunition

WHILE GARRISON WAS ABSENT

Police Were Rushed to Kesh Barracks But in Vain

Belfast, Nov. 5.—Sixteen Sinn Feiners raided the police barracks at Kesh, county Fermanagh, last night, overpowered the four constables in charge, seized all the rifles and ammunition and escaped. They took advantage of the absence of most of the garrison, the men having gone to Enniskillen to attend a boxing tournament.

General Tudor, Irish police chief; Colonel Wickham, Ulster divisional commissioner, and other high police officials were at the tournament.

Police were rushed to the scene of the raid, but the Sinn Feiners had made good their escape.

HAS GOT TEN BEARS.

And Expects to Double the Number Before Dec. 1.

It is generally conceded by the people who know that Brunswick has one of the most successful and scientific bear hunters in northern New England, Andrew Damon is his name. He was a former resident of Lancaster. It has come to be known that Mr. Damon is very systematic in his hunting and trapping. The state of Vermont pays a bounty of $10 per head until December 1st, when the bounty is removed.

Mr. Damon refrains from killing until the last two weeks of the period prior to the removal of the bounty. The pelt then is prime and brings in good condition for food. He has already taken eight big ones and two rubs and is positive he will have as many more before the bounty season is past. He has a formula for preserving the flesh for food purposes and with a regular market for the pelts, it makes a very lucrative occupation.

Mr. Damon is quite lame and has been since boyhood. This of course hampers him somewhat in long tramps, but to make up for this, he is thoroughly conversant with the life of the bear, its habits and has every known device for trapping and tracking his game to the downfall.

There is no doubt in the minds of his friends but his voice adds a large number to his catch as his voice is imitative and his pitfalls are wonderfully natural.

Mr. Damon is a dead shot and uses a 32-40 Savage rifle. His rifle brings down the partridges by clipping the heads in flight as he never shoots until he gets a "rise." His address is North Stratford, N. H., and his camp in the wilds of Granby is available when guiding and advice is desired.—Dows County Democrat.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON DOES IT THIS WAY

Last year, a big problem was put up to Sir Thomas Lipton, founder of the great business having the largest sale of tea in the world.

A reduction in tea prices was necessary. Should he reduce the quality in keeping with the lowered price? Sir Thomas Lipton's decision was immediate and unchangeable.

He would cut the price—but the quality, NEVER!

Gold Label quality was adopted as standard for Lipton's well-known Yellow Label Brand, and in addition the price was reduced.

That's why Lipton's Yellow Label Brand of tea is not only the finest tea but also the finest value in the world today.

Ask your grocer for Lipton's Yellow Label Tea. If he does not sell it, send us his name and address and we will mail you a FREE sample and give you the name of a grocer who can supply you.

HARA KILLING SHOCKED WORLD

Cablegrams Expressing Horror Received From Nearly All Nations

DEMENTED YOUTH WAS THE SLAYER

Viscount Uchida, Foreign Minister, Is Temporary Premier

Tokio, Nov. 5 (By the Associated Press).—Cablegrams expressing horror over the assassination yesterday of Takashi Hara, the premier, poured into Tokio to-day from the capitals of virtually all nations. The attack on M. Hara was made by a demented youth, and there is no definite knowledge as yet that it had its genesis in the political rancor which actuated bitter assaults upon M. Hara and his government in recent past.

Viscount Uchida, former Japanese minister to the United States and foreign minister in M. Hara's cabinet since 1918, has assumed the post of acting premier, pending a possible reconstruction of the government.

FASHIONS IN BATHING.

Various Ways of Keeping Clean in the Animal World.

While humans journey far to disport themselves in the waters of lake or ocean and trouble themselves much over questions of one or two-piece bathing suits, their animal cousins show an instinct for cleanliness and a variety in fashion of bathing at once interesting and instructive.

After friend squirrel, the other morning, had sported on the porch roof, his heart's content and taken his morning exercise bounding from limb to limb of oak and elm, he decided to take his bath. So he held one paw with the other while washing it, and changed so rapidly from one to the other that he seemed to be clapping his hands together in very joy.

Tabby, the cat, has a constitutional aversion to water. Nevertheless, she puts her rough tongue to good use and brushes herself with the vigor of a hairdresser. Domestic fowls share the feline dislike to bathing, but they roll in the cleansing dust with all the zest of a small boy playing in the sand. The lark also flutters along the ground and bathes itself in this way.

Bats, moles, hedgehogs and such animals comb themselves with their nails as with a fine-tooth comb. Spiders and other insects brush their antennae and mandibles with their forelegs.

Even reptiles are not content to remain unclean. Though they cannot conveniently wash themselves, they discard their old skins for new ones several times a year, and face the world with complete new raiment every year.

But most of the four-footed and feathered creatures show an instinct for cleanliness. Some of them are even fastidious in the matter.

Picking Winners.

"I hear that Jenks has had a wonderful run of luck with horses this year," Thompson said.

"Yes, a winner every time. Do you know how he does it?" inquired Turkina.

"No," admitted Thompson.

"Well, he holds up a list of the horses running, gets his wife to close her eyes and stick a pin in the list, and she always picks a winner," explained Turkina.

"I'll try that gag with my wife, but I'll make her use a fork, and then we'll get first, second and third," retorted Thompson.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

News has been received here of the death of Gilman Mann, at his home in San Pedro, Cal., on Wednesday, Oct. 19. Mr. Mann had been ill for more than a year, and was confined to the house. Mr. Mann was a former resident here, and was born April 28, 1849, the eldest of three children of John and Emily (Howard) Mann. Mr. Mann married, first, Martha Granger, and one son was born, John Lacey, who is now in Lisbon, Portugal. In 1874 Mr. Mann started in the clothing business in this village, conducting a successful men's furnishing store for many years. Twenty years ago he removed to California, making several trips back here since that time. His second wife was Mary Parsons, daughter of the late Frank Parsons, who for years lived in town. Mr. Mann's funeral was held from the undertaking parlors, and the body was taken to Los Angeles for cremation and the ashes will be sent here for interment in the family lot in South View cemetery.

Bethany guild gave a chicken-pie supper Friday night, which was well attended and netted quite a sum for the guild.

Erwin Montgomery has moved from the Cushman house on Central street to Beaverville to the Traverse house, recently purchased by Mrs. Julia Muggford.

Mrs. Luna Roger of Barre has been a guest of her cousin, A. T. Morse, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leonard entertained at their camp Mrs. Jennie Smith of this town and her sister, Mrs. Idella A. Case, of Los Angeles.

As a result of bag day for the sanatorium contributions to the value of $300 were made. Through an appeal of Rev. Fraser Metzger, a collection of $30.62 was taken between the acts of the local play Friday evening. Rev. F. S. Tolman appealed at the Strand theatre Saturday evening, and $34.17 was received there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Campbell of Warren were the guests of their son, Raymond Campbell, and wife.

A $100 Song.

Ten little yellow-backs, every one mine; Bought a little gasoline, then there were nine.

Nine little yellow-backs; didn't they look great! Busted a spring astern, then there were eight.

Eight little yellow-backs, bright as golden Heaven. Picked up a nail on route, then there were seven.

Seven little yellow-backs; it took one to fix. A cop who saw us speeding then there were six.

Six little yellow-backs; I hit some hens alive. Settled with the farmer, then there were five.

Five little yellow-backs; there surely had to be hauled from out a ditch then there were four.

Four little yellow-backs were all I could see; Bought a beefsteak on the way and then there were three.

Three little yellow-backs ought to see me through. Left a switch turned on all night, and then there were two.

Two little yellow-backs left of this "moon;" Parked in a forbidden spot and then there was one.

One little yellow-back and this is no joke. I purchased a quart of — then I was broke. —Jedediah

Topics of the Home and Household.

Floor holes may be plugged with new corks, tightly fitting. They'll take any stain.

A certain number of small glass fruit jars with tight tops should be kept exclusively for use in the refrigerator for those left-over bits that become very unsightly and useless if left to dry in an open dish.

An easy way to keep mattress covers in place is to sew buttons on the mattress and make button holes in the cover. There aren't then the annoying strings to untie each time and no knots to untie after laundering.

How to Use Vacuum Cleaner.

She bought a new electric cleaner and was "pleased as punch" over its convenience and ease of operation, says the Springfield Republican. She unpacked it, taking off the wrappings with as much glee as a child with a new bicycle. And nothing would do but she must try it out right away.

Her husband harnessed it to the base-board receptacle in the livingroom and she grasped the shiny handle with a feeling that she was conquering new worlds.

But then things began to go wrong. She pushed the cleaner, spick and span in its newest, bristly back and forth over the rug. She trotted the length of the room and back—then stopped short. The machine was humming a gay song, the dust bag was well blown out—but the carpet wasn't really clean.

Bits of lint and traces of mud were gone, but she knew her rug well enough so that it was not clean all through. She looked puzzled, she scratched her head, figuratively, at least. Then she called his masculine highness into consultation.

The upshot of it all was the discovery at length that this housewife had been pushing the cleaner too fast. She thought of it as being similar to her old hand-power carpet sweeper. She had always run that quickly, for the more momentum she could get up the better it worked. But the electric cleaner, she found, is different. It must be pushed with a steady, regular movement, and slow enough so the current of air may have ample opportunity to do its work. It's a different process from the use of the carpet sweeper.

The housewife who handles it properly finds this electric broom adds real pleasure to her home-keeping duties.

Food Value of Salmon.

Pink and chum salmon are among the most wholesome and least expensive foods it is possible to procure at the present time. These two varieties, by reason of their greater abundance, but not for lack of quality, are the cheapest. Although they differ in color and flavor, so that each is especially suited to certain dishes, they are alike in their high food value.

Pink Salmon Cocktail.

Flake one-pound can of pink salmon and remove bones and skin. Place in 8 cocktail glasses, pour over each one tablespoonful of following dressing. Serve with slice of lemon and water. Dressing:

One tablespoon horseradish.
One tablespoon vinegar.
One tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.
Two tablespoons tomato catsup.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
One dash of tabasco.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Very appetizing. Will serve 8 persons.

Pink Salmon Chowder.

One small can pink salmon.
One small onion.
One pint milk.
One medium-sized potato.
One-fourth pound salt pork.
Two crackers.
Salt and pepper to taste.
Remove salmon from can, and break fish into pieces. Dice the potato and cut pork and onion into half-inch dice. Put in a large saucepan and fry quickly, until they are a light brown. Place potato, fish, pork and onion in a large saucepan, dust with salt and pepper. Cover the whole with boiling water and let the mixture simmer for 20 minutes. Add pint of milk and two finely broken crackers. Serve in soup plates. An excellent chowder, inexpensive and nutritious.

Pink Salmon Salad.

One-pound can pink salmon.
One-half pint celery.
One-half pint mayonnaise.
Free the salmon from skin, bones. Pick the fish apart and add the celery (which has first been cut fine) and mayonnaise dressing, tossing lightly. Season to taste. Save a little mayonnaise to pour over the top. Arrange in salad dish and garnish with curled lettuce and drops of red jelly, or serve on fresh, crisp lettuce leaves.

"Only another Buick can ever satisfy a Buick owner"

"I HAVE owned seventeen Buicks," says Dr. Victor L. Garbutt, Detroit. "During all the years I have driven a Buick I have never had to walk home. And that's going some. I doubt if there is another car on the market that would have given me such service and I know of no car that would have given me better."

There are doctors in this community and many others who use Buicks exclusively because they know Buick never fails.

NORTHFIELD

The funeral of Miss Adrie N. Boudreau was held from St. John's Catholic church Wednesday morning. Rev. J. A. Lynch officiating. The remains were taken to Winoski for burial. She had been ill for some time from complications following an illness of influenza. Her death occurred at her home on the Williamstown road Monday.

Mrs. Adrie Boudreau was 13 years of age and is survived by six brothers and four sisters.

Mrs. Katherine Gardner returned on Sunday to her home in Lowell, Mass., after spending the past week in town, visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Middlebrook, and sister, Mrs. Fred J. Davis.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of Lyndonville and son, Karl Davis of Boston, have been visiting in town, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hartwell and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Dyke. Karl Davis is a graduate of Norwich university.

Miss Ruth Birklund, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harold Aldrich, for several weeks, has returned to her home in Woodhaven, L. I.

Edwin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jones of this town, accompanied by Earl Cutting, has gone to Deland, Fla. Mr. Jones' wife and son have been spending several months in Vermont. Mrs. Jones will remain in Brookfield with her father, G. W. Pantton, during her husband's absence.

There will be regular services in the Universalist church Sunday. A candidate for the pastorate will be present and preach at the morning service.

Mrs. D. Caccavo and children of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Broggi, on Water street. Mrs. Caccavo will be remembered here as Olga Broggi.

Miss Grace Sheldon of Salem, Mass., is visiting in town, a guest of Mrs. Cornelia Porter.

Elsie Illingworth and her London concert company appeared Wednesday evening as the first number of the lecture course. The entertainment was held in Sawyer theatre, which was nearly filled. The program was varied and most pleasing, it consisted of vocal, violin, piano and bell solos and quartette numbers, also humorous readings and comedy songs, all typical of their country. The entertainers were introduced by Professor K. E. B. Flint, in behalf of Nisatin club, under whose auspices and management the lecture course is run. There are still available seats for the remainder of the course. The proceeds are to be turned over to Northfield's Public Health association. Last season $160 was realized from the course.

Mrs. Levi Wilson of Groton has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lynn Hill, during the week.

Bertrand Rogers, a member of the U. S. cavalry detachment at Norwich military.

University and orderly to Colonel Frank Tompkins, received a bad cut under the chin when he was kicked by a horse at the university. Dr. Hurley was summoned and it was found necessary to take several stitches to close the wound.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes I was in bed for two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to try it.
